

BAILEY AND FOES
EQUALLY SANGUINEAnother Primary Election
Called in One County.

SENATOR ON THE STUMP

But One Question Will Be Placed On the Ballot.Democratic Leaders Being Appealed to and Fully Five Hundred Have Personal Interviews with Bailey.
Attorney General Davidson Says He Has No Further Statement to Make in Waters-Pierce ControversyDallas, Tex., Dec. 9.—Senator Bailey left Dallas to-night for his home in Galveston, after having been in consultation with political supporters from all parts of the State for two days. During that time he met not fewer than 500 Democrats of influence in the party, and talked over the long-distance telephone with probably as many more.When he left Dallas to-night Senator Bailey said:
"I am entirely satisfied with the situation, so far as the question of my return to the Senate is involved. Of the 164 members of the legislature, I feel sure of receiving the votes of at least 150 when the election for United States Senator takes place in January, and when the final day arrives."It need surprise no one if the vote shall be unanimous.

Says Wave Is Receding.

The leaders of the movement against me have done their worst, and from this time on their influence will waver with those few members of the legislature who, from lack of knowledge of the real facts, have been temporarily misled, but who are now beginning to learn the real status of all my dealings with H. Clay Pierce, which have been purely personal, and in no wise identified with oil company interests."The opponents of Senator Bailey, despite his confidence in his success, declare they will yet defeat him for re-election. The leaders of the opposition claim that seventy-two members of the legislature have made it known that they will not vote for Bailey's re-election.
This is enough to defeat him.

Davidson Is Satisfied.

Attorney General R. V. Davidson said to-day that he had no further reply to make to Mr. Bailey. Bailey had called for the proof of the charges which he had made against him, and he had responded to that demand by furnishing it, he said.Mass meetings are being called and anti-Bailey petitions circulated for signatures. One county, Comanche, has repudiated its former primary election indorsement, so far as the county Democratic committee could do it, and ordered a new primary election for December 22, with the ballots to read:

"For Bailey."

Against Bailey."

Senator Bailey said to-night he will go right into the Comanche County campaign on the stump and challenge Attorney General Davidson, Hon. M. M. Crane, or any other leader of the opposition to debate before the people with him.

GET "JACK THE HUGGER."

Neighbors Are Surprised to Find Him a Married Man.Sayville, L. I., Dec. 9.—Owing to scores of women in Sayville and Bayport, L. I., having been insulted while on evening walks by a "Jack the Hugger," a scheme was planned by Deputy Fred Deitz for the hugger's capture.Deitz went walking Saturday night with Mrs. Oliver La Cluze and Miss Maude Baldwin, of Bayport. They came upon a man standing in the shadow of a hedge, when Mrs. La Cluze recognized the man who had hugged herself and sister the night before.Deitz arrested the man and brought him before Justice White, at Sayville, where Mrs. La Cluze and other women swore the prisoner had hugged them. The prisoner was placed under bonds for trial Tuesday evening before Justice White, of Sayville.He gave the name of John B. Pluke, who is assistant superintendent on F. G.
Bourne's Indian Neck estate, at Oakdale.
Pluke is married and has two children.
Commodore Bourne was much surprised over the arrest of his employee and the charge against him.

STAY AWAY FROM FETE.

Russians Refuse to Attend Ceremony of Feast of St. George.St. Petersburg, Dec. 9.—The feast of St.
George the Conqueror was celebrated today here and at the Tsarsko-Selo by ceremonies intended to demonstrate the strength of the autocracy.The militia riding school here was given to the league of Russian people for the service of blessing their banners by Father John of Cronstadt and other leaders of clerical absolutism. The audience of 3,000 was composed largely of plainclothes police.At a reception at Tsarsko-Selo of officers possessing the Order of St. George, the czar wore the uniform of colonel of his regiment of Manchurian Rifles.

SING SING CONVICT ESCAPES.

Reaches West Bank of Hudson Over the Ice and Bonds Freight.Ossining, N. Y., Dec. 9.—Making his way, it is believed, across the floating ice in the Hudson River, Frank Schleimann, a New York convict, escaped from Sing Sing prison to-night and is presumed to have succeeded in reaching the west bank of the river, boarded a freight train, and escaped.A general alarm has been sent out for his apprehension. He had one year left to serve out of a three-year term imposed for counterfeiting.

Two Hurt in Collision.

Utica, N. Y., Dec. 9.—In a collision between a passenger and a freight car on the Ontario and Mohawk Valley trolley road at Schuyler Lake to-night, Motor-man William Groat, of the passenger car, and Conductor Thomas Mills, of the freight, were fatally injured.Stenographers' Civil Service Examination, Jan. 28. The Drillery, 1100 N. Y. ave., will tell you all about it.

WEATHER FORECAST.

For the District of Columbia, Maryland, and Virginia.—Unsettled weather, with occasional light rain to-day and possibly tomorrow; light, variable winds.

CORNELL BOWS HEAD IN GRIEF.

Enormous Crowd Joins Sage Chapel at Memorial Service.Ithaca, Dec. 9.—One of the largest crowds that ever attended a religious service at Cornell gathered in Sage Chapel this afternoon to hold a memorial service for the four undergraduates who lost their lives in the fire at the Chi Psi fraternity lodge.Dean Crane, members of the board of trustees, and many professors were present. The members of the senior class all wore badges of mourning, in accordance with a resolution passed at yesterday's meeting calling for such tokens of sorrow to be worn for two weeks.The Sage Chapel choir led the audience in singing, under the direction of Hollis E. Dean, professor of music at the academy.
R. E. Curry and Mrs. Chantant sang the solos. Genuine sorrow and sympathy for the dead characterized the service.
Rev. James F. Brodie, the university preacher, delivered the address.

RUSH WORK ON CRUISER.

Officials at Mare Island Surprised at Order Regarding the Milwaukee.San Francisco, Dec. 9.—Officials at the Mare Island Navy Yard were surprised yesterday to receive orders to place the new protected cruiser Milwaukee in commission at once.Although her battery has not yet been put aboard, and almost all of this work remains to be done on the cruiser, she will be placed in commission to-morrow.

SHEA TRIAL BANKRUPTS UNION

Teamsters Have Spent $60,000, and Much More Is Needed.Chicago, Dec. 9.—With the $60,000 fund raised by Chicago labor unions to defend the leaders of the teamsters' organization from conspiracy charges exhausted, President Fitzpatrick, of the Chicago Federation of Labor, has named a committee to secure $10,000 more, and even this, it is admitted, may not be enough to conclude the case.The treasury is completely exhausted and an attempt was made some time ago to borrow $10,000 from the streetcar men's union, a proposition which the latter organization promptly refused.The federation, locally, has been asked to levy a compulsory assessment upon its members, but declined on the ground that, as a last resort, the International Brotherhood of Teamsters should bear the expense of the trial.The teamsters have had from ten to fifteen attorneys engaged on the case for months. In the selection of the jury, too, such precautions were taken that more than 6,000 veniremen were examined before the panel was filled.There are several hundred witnesses to be examined for the prosecution and defense, and, in the event of a conviction, the case will be appealed to the highest courts and, perhaps, even carried before the Federal tribunals.The prosecution is said to be ready this week to get a number of business men to testify against the union.

PURE FOOD ICE CREAM IS DEAR.

Makers Will Advance Price If Milk Standard Is Raised.Louisville, Dec. 9.—Unless the United States Commission on Purity of Food reduces the standard of ice cream from 14 per cent of butter fats to 8 per cent, and allows the use of eggs, wholesome vegetable gum, or natural flavoring ingredients, the price of this dairy product will be advanced.The commission shows no disposition to make concessions, and the National Association of Ice Cream Dealers declare that the present article is far more palatable than the ice cream manufactured according to governmental regulations.

HENNIG NOT TO PROSECUTE.

Man Shot by Former Business Associate Says Wound Is Trivial.New York, Dec. 9.—Thomas O'Connor, the bucketshop man who on Friday shot William R. Hennig, in front of 57 Broadway, was finally admitted to bail this morning by Magistrate Barlow, in the Tombs police court. The bond was made $100, and was furnished by William Nelson, of 367 Seventh avenue.Hennig wrote a letter to Magistrate Barlow, in which he said that his injuries were only trivial, and that he did not intend to prosecute O'Connor.

PEER TO WED PITTSBURG GIRL.

Lord Ellenberg Confirms Engage-

Lord Ellenberg has telegraphed confirming his reported engagement to Miss Hermione Schenley, of Pittsburgh.

Engineer Fatally Hurt.

Mobile, Dec. 9.—In a rear-end collision to-day on the Mobile, Jackson and Kansas City road, eight miles from the city, Frank Steiback, an engineer, was fatally hurt.

DR. LEWIN IN THE CRASH

Disastrous Panic Barely Averted by Their Coolness.Presiding Officer Climbs Out of the Debris and Talks Calmly to Terror-stricken Audience That Had Rushed on the Stage to Shake Hands with the Russian Speaker—Women Caught in the Straggling Heap.New York, Dec. 9.—An immense Hebrew mass meeting in Durland's Riding Academy to-night almost ended in a panic when part of the speaker's platform collapsed, dropping Jacob H. Schiff, the presiding officer, and about forty other persons in a heap on the tin-bark floor.The gathering was called for the purpose of welcoming to this country Dr.
Lewin, a Hebrew member of the late Douma, and a leader of his people in Russia. Dr. Lewin was among the persons who went down, as were also Cyrus L. Sulzberger and Congressman Goldfogel.The hall was crowded to its utmost capacity, mostly by Hebrews from the lower East Side. Dr. Lewin had finished his address, and Mr. Schiff was uttering the closing words of the meeting, when a rush was started toward the platform.
Everybody in the great audience apparently wanted to shake hands with the Hebrew patriot. The crowd climbed up on the reporters' table and stepped from it to the platform.The rush was still on when the crash came. The northern half of the platform had dropped to the floor, a distance of about three feet, and nearly everybody standing on the collapsed part was thrown off. There were several women in the heap, a number of camp stools, and a sofa. One or two of the women shrieked, but the crowd that went down was comparatively calm.The great throng in front of the platform, however, began to show dangerous signs of excitement. Those in the rear of the hall, who were headed for the exit, heard the crash and turned. They could not see distinctly what had happened, and began to push their way toward the front again. The police by this time had forced their way up to the platform and, mounting the reporters' stand, warned the crowd to stay back and leave the hall.Schiff Tried to Calm Them.
Mr. Schiff was at the edge of the heap, and was quickly helped up on the part of the platform that was still standing.He was very cool, and stepping out toward the crowd, aided the policemen in warning the people to leave the hall. Then he jumped down on the reporters' stand, and helped to straighten out the tangle in the hole. Mr.
Lewin also landed on the edge of the heap.Everybody was out of the mix-up within two minutes, and nobody was hurt. Others on the platform, when it went down, were Rev. Dr. Joseph C. Silverman, rabbi of the Temple Emanuel-EI. Rev. Dr. J. L.
Magnes, and his assistant.Dr. Lewin spoke in Yiddish. He said, among other things, that his mission to this country was to stiffen the sentiment among the Hebrews for political freedom in Russia.Incidentally he wanted to do all he could to influence American bankers not to lend money to Russia until she had granted her subjects the right to improve the conditions of the Hebrews.Dr. Lewin described the conditions in Russia while the Douma was sitting. The Russian Hebrews, he said, want no favors, and ask for none, but they have been suffering so long that they do want justice. Dr. Lewin declared that Hebrew bankers had often got promises that there would be an improvement, and had lent Russia money, but afterward the Hebrews had only been treated more atrociously.

Wants Hebrews to Organize.

Dr. Lewin favors the union of all Hebrews under the banner of the Constitutional Democratic party. Dr. Lewin is also a Zionist. He said to-night that he looked forward to developments in international politics which would make the restoration of Palestine to the Hebrews a possibility. He declared that the real purpose of the Russian government in keeping the Hebrew question uppermost in that country was to cover up the fact that there are millions of peasants in the country starving.The speaker was cheered roundly at the beginning and closing of his address. Mr.
Schiff, in his speech, reflected the sentiment which Dr. Lewin had expressed in regard to bankers lending money to Russia.The banker who will lend the Russian government money, said Mr. Schiff, "will commit a crime against humanity."Mr. Schiff disclosed the fact that spies of the Russian government are following Dr. Lewin. He said they were undoubtedly at the meeting. He added:"I say to you agents of the Russian government, do you wonder that the Hebrew in Russia becomes a revolutionist?"Mr. Sulzberger and the Rev. Dr. Mag-nes also spoke. It is estimated that there were 3,500 persons in the academy.

ENFORCE ASSOCIATIONS LAW.

French Cabinet Members Send Instructions Throughout Practices.Paris, Dec. 9.—The associations law will go into operation on Tuesday next.
Prime Minister Clemenceau, M. Bynard, minister of education and public work-ship, and M. Deseigne, minister of justice, held a lengthy conference this afternoon and decided upon the terms of definite instructions in regard to the law which will be sent to all the small tribunals to govern their action in matters pertaining to church disputes.M. Clemenceau is strongly sustaining the position of M. Bynard in regard to making the new law effective. M. Deseigne stated to-night that energetic instructions would be telegraphed Monday to all those charged with the enforcement of the law.

$100,000 Fire in New York.

New York, Dec. 9.—Fire which gutted the six-story mercantile building at twenty firms.

SIXTY SAILORS ARE DROWNED.

Men from Japanese Cruiser Victims of Sudden Squall.Tokyo, Dec. 9.—Native boats carrying sailors returning from shore to the Japanese cruiser Chitose, Sunday, were capsized in a sudden squall. It is reported that sixty sailors were drowned.

BREAKWATER WASHED AWAY.

Heavy Current Cuts Away Beach at Moorehead, N. C.Moorehead, N. C., Dec. 9.—Capt. Pough, of the life-saving station, was startled last night to discover that the embankments, breakwaters, and pier were settling. The breakwater just in front of the main building has entirely disappeared. There is now more than fifty feet of water where before the giving way of the rocks the land was three feet above high water. The wharf in front of the building settled until it was afloat.
Some who have observed the phenomenon think the sinking is due to the heavy current along that part of the beach cutting a channel under the breakwater. The beach is still gradually sinking.

FLOCK IGNORES COURT ORDER.

Bans Minister from Church, and He Holds Services in Cemetery.Lancaster, Pa., Dec. 9.—In spite of the orders of court, Rev. Emil Meister, a Lutheran minister of Lancaster, was today barred out of Mount Zion Lutheran Church, Eden Township, as he was two weeks ago, and he to-day, as then, held services in the graveyard for the purely Lutheran congregation, a bolting faction which has possession of the church building, having affiliated with the Reformed Church.The court will dispose of the troubles next Saturday, when proceedings in contempt will follow.

BELT SAVES OFFICER'S LIFE

Bullet from Bandit's Gun Strikes Plate on Policeman's Uniform.New York, Dec. 9.—Policeman Charles Campbell and Roundsman Henry S. Stul arrested John W. Gatewood, thirty-four, a noted character, this afternoon, on suspicion of being concerned in recent robberies.They were waiting for the patrol wagon when Gatewood broke away and started to run.The police went after him, when he suddenly drew a revolver and fired point-blank at Campbell. The bullet struck the beltplate of the officer's uniform, knocking him out as effectively as if it had been a blow from a sledge-hammer.Roundsman Stul, seeing his fellow-officer fall, drew his revolver and fired at Gatewood, the bullet piercing his heart and killing him instantly.A physician soon restored Campbell to consciousness, and it was found that he was practically unharmed, although suffering from a bad bruise in the abdomen.
Gatewood's body was taken to the station house and Roundsman Stul was palladed by the corner to appear at the inquest.The police went after him, when he

THEY'RE INITIATING TEDDY JR.

President's Son Delivers Papers to "Dickies" at Sunrise.Goes About Harvard Grounds Labeled in Large Letters: "Poor Roosevelt," Doing Stunts.Cambridge, Dec. 9.—Theodore Roosevelt, Jr., a Harvard sophomore, is joining the "Dickies," the swell of all fraternities, at Cambridge.The initiation lasts almost a week, and young Roosevelt began to perform his obligations this morning. Under the guard of a student named Harrington, he appeared in Harvard Square shortly after sunrise. He was clad in a startling gray summer suit, blue flannel shirt, white canvas shoes, and was bareheaded.Roosevelt first visited a Harvard Square lunch room. Here he broke his fast on mustard, pickles, buttermilk, fresh raw oysters, maple syrup, and warm squash pie. His gastronomic feat was witnessed by a great crowd, and after he had finished using a finger bowl (in which benzene was substituted for water) he again appeared in the square, and with a bundle of morning newspapers, made his rounds of the houses of the Dickies, leaving a paper at each.In bold letters across each paper was written the words "Poor Roosevelt." After delivering the papers Roosevelt returned to seclusion, but visited the theater district of Boston last night and attended a performance at one of the high-class houses. Here he was required to make himself prominent, and he had little rest.

RUEF GETS $2,000 BRIBE.

"General," Believed to Be Mayor Schmitz, Indorses Payment.San Francisco, Dec. 9.—The latest graft that has been exposed before the grand jury is that which Boss Ruef secured from kite-flying advertisements of the Johnson Locke Company before the fire. These kites were used to advertise cigarettes, whisky, and other goods, and hovered over the city. No license had been demanded for them till one day when the superior reported a resolution against them.A member of the Johnson Locke Company saw the chairman of the supervisors and he referred the inquirer to Ruef.The boss fixed the amount of fee to secure the privilege of kite flying at $2,000.
A representative of the mercantile house presented a check for the sum to Ruef and the latter immediately took up the telephone, and after calling up a number, said: "Hello, general; is that you?"A satisfactory response evidently was received, for Ruef proceeded:
"That matter we were speaking about has been fixed, and all right." The witness before the grand jury could not fully identify the "general" as Mayor Schmitz, but it is a fair inference that the mayor was at the other end of the line.
From the time of the payment of $2,000 to Ruef and the sending of the message to the "general," the advertising kites were no longer interfered with. The returned check, bearing Ruef's indorsement, was submitted as evidence.

RUMOR SAYS BROWN
COURTED ACTRESSThis Report, It Is Asserted, Inflamed Mrs. Bradley.

HIS DEATH IS EXPECTED

Woman On Verge of Collapse and Refuses to Eat.Would-be Slayer Taken to House of Detention, Where She Is Incarcerated with White and Black Children—Declares She Quickly Repentant Act, and Expresses Hope That Victim Will Recover.That Mrs. Annie M. Bradley was graded to her shooting of ex-Senator Arthur Brown, in the Raleigh Hotel Saturday afternoon, by the thought that he contemplated marrying a noted actress, is one of the theories about the shooting now expressed.This much was intimated by her counsel, Leslie & Fulton, who were retained to take charge of her case. They did not divulge the name of the actress, although it was intimated she was prominent.The mystery of the immediate motive for the shooting may be brought out if the case comes to trial, but although they were closeted with her for several hours yesterday, her counsel would say nothing as to her line of defense.Brown was in an extremely critical condition last night. At an early hour yesterday a consultation of physicians was held at the Emergency Hospital, and their investigation showed slight evidence of septic poisoning. The patient was in a stupor most of the day. A sudden turn for the worse with fatal results may occur at any time.Ex-Senator Brown is past sixty years of age, and his habits of living have been such, the physicians say, as to render him particularly liable to septic poisoning, and obstructed recuperation. Just before the patient was placed upon the operating table at the Emergency Hospital, he directed that several telegrams be sent to members of his family and friends. He was on the operating table for three hours, and since coming from under the influence of anesthetics has not been in condition to receive or answer communications.

Mrs. Bradley Near Collapse.

Mrs. Bradley is on the verge of collapse. Unable to sleep since the shooting, she paced the floor of the matron's room at the First precinct police station all night Saturday.With the exception of a glass of milk, she has had no nourishment for more than two days. Yesterday morning Mrs.
Bradley was transferred to the House of Detention on Eighteenth street. Here she was booked along with a lot of other women and child prisoners, white and colored, on the charge of assault with intent to murder, and held without bail.
She is being watched constantly. At times she is almost hysterical. Worn out last evening, she retired early, but was unable to sleep soundly.Several people have offered her assistance, but she has refused to accept their gifts. A representative of the Salvation Army called at the House of Detention yesterday with a basket of food, but the distracted woman would not accept. Someone telephoned from Harvey's, offering to send her anything that she should desire.A constant stream of sympathetic callers applied at the House of Detention to see her yesterday, but all were refused admission. Hotel and restaurant keepers telephoned that they would fill her orders for meals without charge.

Would Not Rest.

Until last night Mrs. Bradley refused to take any rest. From 2 o'clock until 5 o'clock yesterday morning she was in consultation with A. E. L. Leckie, who had received a telegram from Salt Lake attorneys asking him to take charge of the case. After Mr. Leckie's departure she would not go to bed, and remained in the room with Mrs. Thornburgh, the matron.At times she would walk the floor in deep meditation, wringing her hands.
Then she would attempt to calm herself and sit down. One or twice she pretended to be praying, but said nothing.
Occasionally she would laugh and talk on various subjects.She inquired frequently concerning the condition of Brown and expressed the hope that he would recover. At midnight she made efforts to send messages to the victim, who was in no condition to receive or answer them."He would not permit me to be locked up in the police station if he knew it," Mrs. Bradley said frequently to the police matrons.Once during the night Mrs. Thornburgh asked her how she ever got up courage to commit such a crime."Oh, I don't know," she replied. "When I think of it I don't understand it. Sometimes Mrs
